

CHALMERS GETS HERE FOR SHOW

New Type Motor With Foreign Design Overhead Valve All Same Peugeot; New "Boat-line" Model is a Beauty

Five to look at still better to ride in are the new Chalmers "sixes" received yesterday by the local distributors, the O'Neill Auto & Supply Co. That big gray "boat" that Maxwus O'Neill drove up and down Central avenue for a couple of hours yesterday is the "Master Six." The beautiful Mercedes gray finish, the red wheels, speed-launch body and capless radiator make it an unusually attractive car. Next to it comes the "Light Six," which the Chalmers people are featuring strongly this season. It is a car that "has everything" and sells here for $1875 in the six-passenger model.

The "new six," however, is the model that offers something different, something new. Until one sees the monogram on the radiator, he is willing to believe that it is Peugeot or Delage, so typically European is the radiator design. And the high-speed engine with overhead valves and cam-shaft again suggest the foreign racer. Small pistons, long stroke, 2 1/2 by 5 1/2 are the dimensions, and one immediately begins to wonder if "she wouldn't do about 70 m.p.h."

CHINESE STUDENTS BEAT VARSITY 10-5

Celestials Out Class Wild Cats in Best Game Ever Seen at Tucson—Return Game Today

(Special to The Republican)
TUCSON, March 22.—The Chinese had team from the University of Hawaii added another scalp to their belt this afternoon when they took the University of Arizona Wild Cats into camp to the tune of 10 to 5.

The celestials put up the finest exhibition of ball ever seen here and although Arizona played better than they thought they were able at the close of the game the Chinese were far in the lead.

Porter for Arizona pitched excellent ball and McGowan on first and Dick Meyer catcher both made two two-baggers out of four times at the bat.

In a second game this afternoon the university is hopeful of taking revenge for the defeat today.

logged out in racing clothes. The team and is carried on long comfortable springs which guarantee easy riding. This "New Six" for just its official name, sells here for $125, and this particular car is the first shipped to any western point. When Marc Bunnell, western district manager was here a few weeks ago, Tom Trent made him promise to get one here if possible for the Auto Show, and come it did. So Phoenix is having a look at a new model before even the Chalmers fans of Los Angeles and San Francisco are given a chance to admire it.

Tom Trent returned Sunday evening from Tucson where it was his pleasure to see the racing Maxwell's finish 1-2-4 in the big 100 mile free-for-all. The track is a wonder for a young one, and the big drivers said it could easily be made into one of the finest little speedways in the United States. Trent says that the Maxwell boys were cited at hanging up so many non-stop records the past two weeks. From Tucson Oldfield went to Oklahoma City for the 200 mile race, while Billy Carlson was called to the factory to try out the new racer that has been built for him. The Maxwell experts use the racers to try out their ideas, to test the various steels used. The same system, the same methods that have made the racers record-breakers are used in the Maxwell factory for turning out the stock models.

HOLIDAY FOR SOX CONTEST

Langowski Persuades Phoenix it Would Be Good Time to See Big Leaguers in Action: Half Holiday is Probable

Wednesday, March 31, will be a sort of a legal holiday in Salt River valley, if the efforts of Manager Paul Julius Langowski of the Mesa Jewels have any success. Langowski yesterday induced the chamber of commerce and the merchants and manufacturers here to consider making Wednesday a sort of a holiday, so that the clerks might have from 2 until 4:30 to see the game with the Chicago White Sox at Riverside Park. In addition to seeing the two organizations and getting them to call a special joint session in order to consider the holiday proposition Langowski interviewed a number of business men about Phoenix, and secured an unanimous agreement on the closing proposition.

He found that the capital city is not much behind Mesa and Tempe in baseball enthusiasm. Of course, business is absolutely suspended in both the southside towns for the game. All the folks will be there.

When asked for a statement on his expectations in the crowd line, Langowski said that preparations would be made to seat three thousand people at Riverside Park, and that if the space was filled, it would undoubtedly be due to the splendid cooperation of the Phoenix business men. While the appearance of the White Sox is a money making proposition for the Mesa team, it is not a selfish one, for practically all the fund raised at the game will be used during the year to make baseball successful in the valley. The nice little profit from last year's White Sox game at Mesa resulted in the Jewels being well equipped financially to promote a regular brand of ball all season.

Governor Hunt will walk to the box and hurl the first ball to Mayor Young.

Before the game, there will be a baseball parade in which the White Sox and the Indian school band will be prominent members. This pageant will commence at the Commercial Hotel at 12:30.

ARIZONA HAY CAN NOW GO TO TEXAS

Raising of Embargo Welcome News to Growers in Gila River Valley: Shipments Must Be Fumigated

Opening the Texas market to Arizona hay, word of a decision was received yesterday from the live stock sanitary board of that state to the effect that shipments of hay from this state and New Mexico may be admitted if fumigated in accordance with federal regulations.

Word of the raising of the embargo on Arizona alfalfa was received with rejoicing by farmers in the Gila River valley who depend on the Texas market as their only outlet. Hay will have to be fumigated in cars by the use of formaldehyde, under the supervision of a state or federal inspector. Raising of the embargo followed an appeal to the governor and the live stock sanitary board of Texas by the Arizona officials.
